

DESIGNING TODAY'S FERRIES FOR FUTURE OPERATIONS

Marine Log's 36th Annual FERRIES Conference will take place in the NYC area on November 14th and 15th, 2023. FERRIES 2023 is an opportunity for the North American ferry industry to come together to share experiences, network, look for new suppliers and reconnect with existing suppliers.

Marine Log's FERRIES Conference is the most significant event serving the North American ferry market. It is an opportunity to showcase your company's products, services, and expertise while putting yourself at the center of the action through sponsorships designed to provide maximum return on your investment.

The act of designing or upgrading ferries takes a lot into consideration outside of the vessel's blueprints. Making a greener ferry is a design choice and so is passenger experience. FERRIES 2023 will focus on how today's ferries—those under construction, coming online soon, or already in operation—can prepare for the changing scope of future operations.

"I found the Marine Log FERRIES 2021 conference in NYC to be the best ferry specific industry event in the Americas, and one of the best I've been to in the 25+ years I've been involved in the marine industry. As a potential systems integration supplier to ferry operators, many of my potential clients were in attendance so huge value for my investment. The speakers at Marine Log FERRIES are also top notch and recognized as leaders and experts on the topics they presented. I would definitely recommend future attendance of this event to anyone looking to learn about ferry industry best practices, new technologies and business trends."

- Bruce Strupp, Vice President Marine Systems US, ABB Marine & Ports

"Whether it's the FERRIES conference or Tugs, Towboats & Barges, if it's a Marine Log conference, I know I'm in for a great event. Marine Log has a knack for bringing together the right mix of attendees with presenters who are leaders in their field, and I always get a lot out of the varied panels, presentations, and networking opportunities. I'm excited to see Marine Log expand their conference offerings with the introduction of Ship Repair USA—I know it won't disappoint."
